Simplicity is its Power

Why Learn Reiki in Bali ?

I could go on for a long time on that one, and to keep it short :-

- 🕒 The atmosphere
- 🕒 The energy
- 🕒 The people
- 🕒 The venue
- 🕒 The experience(s)
- 🕒 Tanran Reiki

The location we use for the workshops and courses is in the North West corner of Bali, 3.5 hours drive from the bustling tourist areas the south of Bali is known for.

Pemuteran is a quiet bay with a still active fishing village. The sea water is normally around 28-30 degrees - a great temperature to relax in when not in the course. There is no surf on the north coast, just clear warm water and clean beaches.

The hotels in the area are smaller villa or cottage style - there are no high rise hotels. The area attracts people who like to take it easy, relax, unwind and go diving or snorkelling. and the atmosphere matches that, the water activities are low key, with the dive/ snorkel boats, and the local small fishing boats being the only motorised craft on the water.

The energy of the area - this is what first attracted me, grabbed me and said; this is the place.

It has something to do with the dramatic backdrop of the mountains behind the village, the clear warm waters, and the geothermal energy just below the surface (several volcanoes can be seen in the distance), To me it is one of the places that just says slow down and live.

The locals in the area are beautiful people, many of them are of course Hindu and to see them living their beliefs on a daily basis - all dressed up for a ceremony riding 2/3/4 to a motor bike/scooter to get to an often brightly decorated temple is a real experience. Most of the locals can speak some English and enjoy talking to the tourists, not hard selling anything, just interested in you.

Venue

The venue is an octagonal purpose built meditation room set above a large open space below, with a private swimming pool, we use both the upper and lower areas for the courses, the meditation room for talking, learning, and meditating, and the lower area for practice and session exchange. We are still working on how to integrate the pool into the course!

Tanran Reiki

Simplicity is its Power

The experience is pure Tanran Reiki, learning how to channel universal life energy, or unconditional love, to ourselves or others for healing, in a guided, intuitive way.

Most people feel when they are called to Tanran Reiki, it is their soul calling, saying this is something you 'need' to do and it often opens the door to experiences that can be truly life changing.

Learning Tanran Reiki from Level I through to Master in one intensive over several days, is the way Tanran Reiki was originally taught, and sometimes profound changes can be experienced then and there - and often the changes are slower and at the same time no less profound.

We often get asked shouldn't there be a gap between the levels? The answer to that is simple - that is up to the individual, some people feel they need a break others not, if you are called to do the whole course in one go, just trust that you are ready for it, because you are.

In Australia we always teach the level II and Master over one long weekend – because this is the way it works!

Level II is all about wanting to and preparing to be a professional healer, and includes learning many techniques, whilst Master Level is about you – you being open to the changes that want to happen in your life so you can live in the Reiki Master energy all the time, and you learn how to do attunements on others.

Running the course over 4 days allows for time in the evenings and mornings to relax and let the learning sink in whilst experiencing the atmosphere, local cuisine and maybe Balinese dancers, all we suggest is that you pay attention to what you eat and drink during the course, light and nutritious is the way to go.

Before and after the course there are opportunities to explore the culture, pamper your self with spa treatments, go diving or snorkelling on fabulous coral or even learn to dive, at special course participant prices, through Sea Rovers Dive Centre

Accommodation, there are many options for accommodation in the area from 5 star, to home stays and everything between. We offer accommodation through Adi Assri – a new hotel just along the beach from the venue, and at Taman Sari a more established hotel next to the venue. There are a variety of room choices at both hotels. If you would like something different please ask.
